OUR USES AND DISCLOSURES

How do we typically use or share your health information?

The following categories describe different ways that we may use and disclose mental health and/or medical information.

- Help manage the health care treatment you receive - We may use information about you to coordinate, provide and manage your health care and any other related services. This may include coordination of care with another person, like a doctor or therapist. We may also contact you to remind you of appointments and inform you of treatment options.
- Run our organization - We may use and disclose information about you to maintain or improve services. These uses and disclosures are necessary to make sure that all our consumers receive quality care. For example, we may use information to review our treatment and services and to evaluate the performance of our staff. We may also combine information about many consumers to decide what additional services should be offered, what services are not needed and whether certain new treatments are effective. We may also disclose information to clinicians, doctors, nurses, students, and other personnel who work for the agency for review and learning purposes.
- Pay for your health services - We may use and disclose information about you so that the treatment and services you receive may be billed to and payment may be collected from you, an insurance company or a third party. For example, we may need to give your health plan or primary insurance company information about the treatment you receive so that your health plan or insurance company will pay us or reimburse you for treatment.
- Administer your plan - We may disclose your health information to your health plan sponsor for plan administration. For example: We provide MDHHS (Michigan Department of Health and Human Services) with certain statistics to explain the services provided and cost for those services. MDHHS (state Medicaid agency) contracts with NorthCare Network as the Prepaid Inpatient Health Plan (PIHP).
- Public Health and Research - We are allowed or required to share your information in other ways – usually in ways that contribute to the public good, such as public health and research. We must meet many conditions in the law before we can share your information for these purposes. For more information see:

www.hhs.gov/ocr/privacy/hipaa/understanding/consumers/index.html

- As Required by Law - We are sometimes required to disclose some of your information without your signed authorization if state or federal laws say we must do so. Such disclosures are usually related to one of the following:
 - A medical emergency where, in the event of a medical emergency, we may not be able to give you a copy of this Privacy Notice until after you receive care.
 - To prevent, control, or report disease, injury, disability, or death.
 - To alert state or local authorities if we believe you are a victim of child or adult abuse, neglect, or domestic violence.
 - To alert authorities or medical personnel if we believe someone is at risk of injury by means of violence.
 - To comply with health oversight agencies for things like audits, civil or administrative reviews, proceedings, inspections, licensing activities or to prove we are complying with federal privacy laws.
 - To respond to a court or administrative order, or a subpoena.
 - To a law enforcement official to report a crime on agency premises.
