Working together
for overall wellness

The importance of giving your consent.

Your consent is needed to allow providers to talk to each other and share behavioral health information that is needed to coordinate your care.

When you sign the Consent to Share Behavioral Health Information form, whomever you choose to list on the form is given permission to talk to each other and share some or all of your behavioral health information.

Talk to your providers about the benefits and risks of sharing your health information.

It's your choice.

To get a copy of the form, ask the CMH office, NorthCare Network, or your Medicaid health plan.
